DEL MAR'S NON-PROFITS

Del Mar has a long history of being a small city which thrives on volunteer citizen involvement. Volunteers created the city's General Plan in 1976, convinced their neighbors to "keep the Greenery in the Scenery" by purchasing Seagrove Park, and later saved what is now Powerhouse Park from becoming the site of a restaurant.

This long history of volunteerism has made Del Mar the unique place it is today. In a small city like Del Mar, every citizen can make a difference by getting involved. Volunteerism is also a great way to meet active and interesting people.
